A Time Before Slaughter by Paul E. Nelson

May 21, 7:30 to 9 p.m

In A Time Before Slaughter, poet Paul Nelson explores Auburn's history in verse, creating a masterpiece in the spirit of classic collages of place penned by American modernists. In a compelling mixture of verse and prose, historical documents and native language, Nelson ushers the reader through events that shaped Auburn's history.

Books will be available for purchase.

Cost to attend is free with regular museum admission ($2 adults, $1 seniors/children).
